

Southern Republicans—Their Impudence.

We briefly noticed yesterday the caucus held in Washington Saturday by southern radicals who are members of the House of Representatives. As we stated Mr. C. Y. TOMAS, of the Pennsylvania district, in this State, presided over the meeting, and we are sorry to say so. We had thought better of him. To have presided over so impudent and scandalous a body is a memorable act in his life. It cannot be soon forgotten. The resolutions adopted by the meeting outrageously libelled his own constituents, and capped the climax by demanding of Congress measures for further oppression of the South; going so far as to demand a two years' appropriation for maintaining armed men in the South and for supporting measures for spreading terror among conservative white people, and strengthening the Radical misgovernment composed of negroes, and dishonest carpet-baggers, and scoundrels.

This two years' appropriation was to get the advantage of the next Congress and prolong the misappropriation of the Federal money. But the trick can't succeed.

These knaves assumed the air of indignation and threatened the Republican congressmen of the North. Those members, it was asserted, do not treat the southern Republicans with proper consideration. It was declared that they did not mean to submit to this treatment, and that they had resolved to frame such legislation as they believe to be necessary to promote the interests and prosperity of the South, and to demand their assistance in making it law. They say if they cannot exist without the aid of Republicans of the North, neither can the Republican party maintain national existence without their aid and influence. They therefore demand that they be permitted to suggest what shall be done by Congress for the South, and if this be not accorded they have resolved to abandon all effort and let the organization of the Republican party in the South take care of itself.

This is cool. It is of the nature of a howl set up by ravening wolves at being cut off from their prey—prey subsistence. These brute beasts of prey adopted resolutions which declared: First, that they reside in a section in which the name Republican is odious, and where proscription is leveled with unsparring hand at all who profess adhesion to that party; that living amid these scenes of violence, they have a realization of the necessity for early action on the part of Congress for the protection of the loyal people of the South. The second resolution recites that in large portions of the South neither life, liberty, or property is protected; the peaceable assembling of the people together is not allowed to Republicans; every right or privilege guaranteed by the Constitution and dear to American freemen is held by southern Republicans as a sacrilege; that assassination, murder, whippings, threats of violence, persecution, proscription, ostracism, calumny, and detraction are the means resorted to to strike down Republicans, and to eradicate fidelity to the Federal Constitution; that the condition of Republicans in the South is unendurable, and they must have protection and speedy relief or be overwhelmed by violence and wrong. The third resolution urges upon this Republican Congress the necessity of providing efficient means for the enforcing of laws adequate to afford Republicans in the South such protection as good government secures to all its citizens.

These impudent and lying resolutions could not have been adopted in Washington city if the Federal Administration were governed in its acts by a proper regard for the Constitution and for the truth as well as the interests of the whole Union. It is the protection that such thieves and liars receive from the Department of Justice and the friendly intervention of the Executive that gives them the impudence to threaten Congress and lay their falsehoods before the nation—falsehoods that are directly converted in a hundred ways.

But these vultures appear to have received comfort. We learn by telegraph that a Republican senatorial caucus held on Monday did not endorse their propositions, and that many of the senators appeared to be against further interference with the affairs of the South because such interference had injured them at the North, and that even Senator Morton, relied upon by the extreme Republicans, did not come to their relief!

In the course of the deliberations of this caucus Senator Lewis, of Virginia, said most truthfully that the Republican party had lost power in the South "by the bad character of many of its would-be leaders, and the civil-rights bill," which he spoke of as "a most iniquitous measure." He made a still more striking and equally true remark when he said that "the South could only be carried for the Republican party, as at present organized, by sending soldiers 'enough there to keep the people from voting.'"

And this is what General Grant should do in the pursuance of that fatal policy by which he is now interfering in Mississippi affairs and endeavoring to force the responsible tax-payers there to submit to the rule of incompetent negroes who are unable to give the legal bonds for the performance of their duties.

Nevertheless, we consider the convulsive sneering of these above described as a good sign. The revolution which is about to drive out oppression and corruption strikes that class of scamps with terrible effect. They see their fates. They see the winds as hogs are said to do, and squeal fearfully. They don't like to give up the robbery in which they have thrived, and dread disposing of their houses to "go back." It will be a sad day for any land to which they may be forced to go.

Therefore, we derive satisfaction from this episode of Radicalism in December 74. It tells of the wrath to come.

Snow-storm at the North.—The papers are noticing the snow-storm at the North as having done a great deal of injury, and as having opposed obstructions to transportation of a serious nature. In New York the telegraph lines were broken down, and increased the perils of fire for the want of means of communication between the fire-stations. The street-cars were also seriously interrupted.

Yet here in Richmond we have had no snow worth speaking of. The weather, except a rainy Sunday, has been bright and balmy, and even building operations have not ceased.

We return thanks to W. F. TAYLOR, Esq., Auditor of Public Accounts, for a copy of his annual report for the fiscal year 1873-74.

A Good Word for the Negro. It will surprise some of our readers to learn, as they may from Auditor Taylor's annual report, that $7,784 negroes out of a total of 98,071 pay a capitation tax of one dollar to the State—or, in other words, pay $7,784 into the treasury. We had not supposed that the negroes paid that much on property and on their heads both counted together. Of the whites, 139,955 out of a total of 152,292 pay the capitation tax. One white in 74 is delinquent, whilst one negro in 24 is delinquent.

On the motion to adjourn from December 23d to January 5, in the House of Representatives, on Monday, Messrs. BOWEN, HARRIS, and WATERBURY (Conservatives) voted aye, and Messrs. SMITH, THOMAS, and STOWELL (Radicals) voted no. Messrs. PLATT and HUNTON were absent.

Sunny Shores; or, Young America in Italy and Australia. A Story of Travel and Adventure. By WILLIAM T. ADAMS (OLIVER ORRICK), author of "Outward Bound," "Shamrock and Thistle," "A Red Cross," "Dikes and Ditches," &c. Boston: LEE & SHEPARD.

The title of this book shows what it is: an entertaining book of travel, chiefly for young people.

Mother Goose's Melodies, Set to Music.—Mother Goose's Nursery Rhymes and Nursery Songs. Set to music by J. W. ELLYSON. New York: McLaughlin Brothers.

It has been always the custom to call Mother Goose's little stories melodies. It was because they were in rhyme, and so chimed in with your little hearts that they were delightful to read and sweet as music to you. But an ingenious person has made books for them, and now, if you will get the book which contains the songs, you may sit by mother and sister and hear them sung with the piano accompaniment. That's fine. It will make Christmas lively.

For sale by J. T. ELLYSON.

Ann Louisa's Big Picture Series. New York: McLaughlin Brothers.

These series, consisting of "Visit from St. Nicholas," "Rip Van Winkle," "Cinderella," and "Domestic Animals," we have received from J. T. ELLYSON, who has them for sale. They are admirably printed in lively colors, and will afford great pleasure to all good little children—i. e., children that are not so mighty good, and yet not so mighty—children that do things a little bad sometimes, but "didn't go to do them"; and for not intending to be bad are consoled by dear mamma with a kiss, and the words, "There, now, don't do so any more." And they never do, do they?

Several bills were passed by and others were advanced on the calendar.

The business on the clerk's desk having been disposed of, the House adjourned at 12:45 P. M.

THE LATE BISHOP CAMPBELL. A Reporter on St. Louis Journal says that the widow of the late Alexander Campbell, of Bethany, W. Va., now resides near Wheeler's station, Lawrence county, Ala., with a married daughter, and that in conversation she decries to the nomenclature sometimes given by the thousands of worshippers to the church which her husband founded and his communications. She says that he never intended to inaugurate a sect, and never decried the Christian Church, or his communications. Campbell's church, or his communications, she says, were the teachings of the Saviour and His apostles, and to bring them back to the simplicity of the original gospel (Luke xxiv. 47) in order to the union of all Christians upon one foundation, and thus to annihilate sectarianism and schism in the Church of God.

CONTRACT AWARDED. The Postmaster-General has awarded to Fairbanks & Co. a contract for supplying the Department with platform and counter scales in order to meet the requirements of the newspaper law, which goes into operation on the 1st of January next. The number of such platform and counter scales will be three thousand—the largest contract of the kind ever awarded.

KILLED.—We regret to learn that Mr. James Valentine, brother of our well-known townsman, J. H. Valentine, was killed yesterday on the Mississippi Central railroad by the collision of two trains. Mr. Valentine was an engineer on one of the trains, and a former resident of Richmond.—Lynchburg Republican.
